DEDICATED TO

W. E. "DOC" GLENN

To wide-eyed freshmen he is the mysterious power behind the glassed-in doors marked "Registrar."

To omniscient sophomores he is the essence of a typical college professor, a perfect combination of the philosophical and witty, the intelligent and inspiring.

To ambitious juniors he is the man who points the way to the stars.

To humble, experienced seniors he is a life-long friend, confidant, and trustee of their toil, their hopes, their ambitions.

To the thousands of Southern graduates who have walked through Munger's doors during his twenty-one years on the Hill he is the man they first remember when you mention Cat's Paw, Sadie Hawkins Day, astronomy, math, engineering.

His interests and activities have no boundaries, his energies no limits, his contagious humor finds no immunities.

Because he is so much a part of our college life and because we find words a poor tribute, we gratefully and affectionately make this dedication.

The Administration

The high command . . . the eternally opened doors . . . a friendly smile from the glassed-in rooms . . . fee receipts . . . “you are requested to see the Dean” . . . an avalanche of notices . . . quiet, calm guiding of confused registrants . . . lower division requirements . . . probation lists . . . words of advice . . . “Sorry, your grades will be mailed to you and we’re not allowed—” . . . Mrs. Hale . . . college catalogues . . . schedule changes . . . Miss Atkinson . . . “The following students missed the last convocation according to—” . . . Veterans’ conferences with Miss Youngblood . . . second floor Munger . . . the heart of the Hilltop.

DR. GEORGE R. STUART

The PRESIDENT

One has to go no farther than the President to find the keynote of Birmingham-Southern—friendliness, ability, leadership. To the hundreds of alumni and civic associates with whom he works, “Jack” Stuart is a recognized educational and civic leader. To all the students he is not only the college’s capable and respected chief administrator but a personal friend.

You can find him in the Bookstore adding his two-bits worth to a faculty-student bull session, or in the Cellar mixing coffee with good humor and brainy talk. When you meet him on the campus he can call you by your first name. When he takes to the lectern at Munger, he doesn’t lecture, he just talks the kind of talk that students understand.

The sound of his booming voice coming through the panelled walls and glass doors of the office marked “President” has a reassuring quality. You know that behind that voice is a man with strength, ability, and foresight, under whose leadership the college will steadily grow to greater heights.

DR. HENRY T. SHANKS

Dean of the College

Through his doors have passed the majority of students—for advice, for praise and encouragement or gentle chiding. He is the important link between student and professor, student and home, student and the long card marked "permanent record". He is also the students' best friend, loved, admired, and respected by every goggle-eyed freshman and harried senior. Their only regret is that administrative duties keep him from teaching more history classes.

FRANCIS P. GAINES

Dean of Men

No job too big for his lofty height and tremendous ability, Mr. Gaines oversees fraternity functions, is Assistant to the President, keeps track of organizations, is faculty advisor to the Executive Council and the publications, coaches a championship tennis team, and furthermore, delivers lively lectures on American history.

MARY HOLMES SENSABAUGH

Dean of Women

Friendly, vivacious, energetic, Mrs. Sensabaugh directs the women's activities on the Hilltop. The dormitory and Stockham her domain, she quietly manages resident women, and weathers the storm of rushing and receptions with greatly admired ability and charm.

NEWMAN M. YEILDING

Treasurer

ROBERT W. WALSTON

Bursar

The financial brain trust for the college, Mr. Yeilding and Mr. Walston plan and execute the school's economy with the tops in administrative skill. With expansion on next year's program and finances in their capable hands, the forecast for the future may safely be written in gold.

The

The Natural Sciences

Supervised by W. A. Whiting, Professor of Biology, and ably assisted by "Geraldine," this department expanded this year to the new North Hall, and threatened the invasion of the Social Sciences and Humanities on three sides of the campus.

FACULTY

At The Conservatory

The Birmingham Conservatory of Music, although separate from the college in administration, is a vital branch of the liberal arts school. Under the direction of Dorsey Whittington (top, center), and Mrs. Frances Whittington (top, right) the Conservatory has carved a solid niche for itself in educational and cultural circles of the city and in the college. Efforts to teach good music in both schools dovetail, and are furthered by Ernest Eniti (top, left); Stephen Dill (bottom, left), who is also director of the College Orchestra; Ackley Brower, lecturer in Theory; and Martha Dick McClung.

The STUDENT

THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Executive Council saw to it that Elbert's energetic freshmen were well oriented and welcomed at an all-campus gym party. Councilors Bill Acker and Ruth Shapard helped stage the Southern Accent Beauty Ball.

When winter came, Zic wasn't far behind. The new president created quite a stir by introducing voting machines into Hilltop election days—as if the campaigns weren't sensational enough.

All year long Bern Calderbank and company slaved over the constitution. Their revised version will permit more student participation, cut out a lot of red tape and bottlenecks and provide a more efficient and effective government.

GOVERNMENT

The Hilltop Honor Council reflected in its membership and activities the long-established tradition of work with honor which has become a cemented facet of Hilltop life.

Led by Bill Acker, president, the Council helped to supervise student elections, and student activities. They carried out the task of acquainting each Hilltopper with the provisions of the Honor Code by explaining the code to freshmen at orientation and by having each student sign the honor pledge.

Standing—Shapard, Cross, Barnes, Shugerman, Day, Hughes, Jackson, Lewis, Brown, Cunniff, Dovel, Grace, Robinson.

The woes and wails of the editor were many. There were all sorts of problems to publishing a yearbook which one, just entering the business, would never dream of.

The job of collecting wheels and just plain people for pictures, long and late evenings at the engravers, harried conferences with the staff, hours and hours hammering out copy on the 'trusty Royal, and the ever-present deadlines. The end of the year brought rueful glances at report cards.

Sharing the burden of both work and play on the editorial side were Joe Cunniff, Anne Lewis, and Bib Hughes, who covered the sports field with an eye for news-makers; Donald Deagon and Stony Jackson, who chased down Greek reporters for that section; Ruth Shapard, Roddy Cross, and Jimmy St. John, who handled the tedious job of collecting and arranging names, pictures and data for the class section; Kathelyn Day, who labored long hours on second floor Munger getting the last word on organizations; and Daphna Barnes, who kept her fingers keyed to the typewriter and S.A. copy. Dave Shugerman and his trusty Speed Graphic were steadily at work for months, focusing their attention on every phase of Hilltop life. The majority of pictures in this book are his skilled handiwork.

Beating the streets of Birmingham for backers in the book were Ogle and his trustees, Dudley Dovel, Morwenna Robinson, Charlie Brown, and Bob Grace. Thanks to them the monthly reports to the P-B were favorable in a year when operating costs climbed relentlessly up and out-of-bounds.

The 1948 Accent reflects more than just a year on the Hill. It is the offering laid by the staff upon an altar of hard labor, cooperation, friendly associations, and the untold headaches of the fourth estate.

SOUTHERN ACCENT

Editor

ELSA ALLGOOD

Dropping her Yankee brogue, Elsa took an intensive course in the creation of a Southern Accent. Adopting the traditional diet of coffee, she beat a steady path around the editorial circuit and managed to keep her wires connected to the AOPi's, IRC's, basketball court, and the history department. Her greatest joy—synchronized activities; her constant enemy—Time.

Business Manager

JIMMY OGLE

The T-formation backed up the labors of advertising tycoon, Ogle, who kept a line drawn straight across the Accent's debits and credits. Financial demands of an inflationary year kept him knocking on the doors of Birmingham businessmen, and his successful balancing act brought plaudits from all departments. His pet theory—a little hard work; his basic philosophy—but you gotta have fun.

The HILLTOP

The staff was always large but come Tuesday noon typists could not be found nor were reporters available. There were always a few old faithfuls though who would dig up something to write for the weekly reviews. Phyllis and then Dottie always had social news, and Joe Cunniff or Coker would come through with the sports. As long as Johnson had a right arm, he'd turn in "Impressions," and Ogle was good for a rather lousy column inconsistently. Jimmie Nell did lots of typing and of course Marilyn held up the business staff single-handed. "Shug" would keep his camera going when and if the budget warranted it. To keep the record clear Foss came through regularly with a financial report from the Exec Council which no one would read.

The office was grand central station for gym parasites and telephone users, for the Book Exchange and money changers. We all learned a lot about column inches, ems and type, about campus doings and recurrent problems. It was all reflected in some thirty-five issues, good, bad, and indifferent—the product of a weekly grind which managed to be harrowing, but pleasant and profitable.

Standing—Row 1, Martin, Lewis, McDonald, Paxton, Brentzel, Stacy, Kidd, Sutton. Row 2, Boutwell, Coker, Shugerman, Brown, Foss, Howard.*

NEWS

Editor

JACK EDWARDS

It was tough mapping layouts and counting the inches week by week, typing, and rewriting so that the radiators would not be empty on Fridays, but Jack managed to do it with nothing lost but hours of sleep, perhaps a grade average, and many handfuls of hair. Between the HTN and Theta Chis across the hall, and enough history courses to make a mule stagger, he learned the ins and outs of editing, passing the bitter-sweet knowledge on to the student body in columns of well-planned, well-written type.

Business Manager

MARILYNN COOPER

Like a high-powered dynamo, Marilyn spent fruitful energy in pyramid-ing ads for the HTN, until the balance of trade was well in her favor. A super-efficient executive she straightened out the files and accounts and kept the business end of the News in ship-shape order. When she wasn't chasing down a prospective advertiser you could find her soliciting world federalists or promoting a campaign for the betterment of her long list of organizations. Her flaming hair became a symbol of action.

We present Senior Sue McNamee at 8 a.m. on a typical day. For many, college was a business that rated a car which solved the "41" problem but posed a harder one in parking.

(Bottom left) Noon, and the cafeteria—the line—the quest for vitamins a la black-eyed peas and cornbread.

A Day IN THE LIFE OF A SENIOR

(Top right) Two p.m. and office hours with your advisor. Credits, quality points, grades—they all add up to graduation, you hope!

(Center right) Three p.m. to her favorite spot, The Cellar, for coffee and the latest dope on books, art, and "the nature of things."

(Bottom left) Four p.m. means sorority meeting. Closed doors, ritual, plans, and friendship, an integral part of the day and this life.

(Bottom right) Nine p.m. and the gym transformed by a ceiling of crepe paper and milling crowds of couples and stags. You two-step and tango to blaring trumpets and forget it's not "Always."

Second Row—Murray, Parks, Shores, Harper, Allison, Elrod, Avirett, Gaines, Jeff, Englebert, Walston, Moore.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

ODK tapping in the Spring again brought together the Hilltop's BMOC's who had proved to the campus that they were worthy of the honor bestowed upon them.

With the honor of membership in this national honor fraternity came the responsibility for carrying out its program of social and scholastic events throughout the year. Besides private "smokers" and bull sessions, ODK met with Mortar Board and a faculty committee to discuss possibilities for improvement of Southern's scholastic average, co-sponsored a Spring tea with Mortar Board, and cooperated fully with the Student Life committee and the Executive Council in reorganizing the student government.

MORTAR BOARD

Nine were added to the ranks of Mortar Board when the Scroll came down last Spring, revealing the names of the Junior women who had "proved themselves worthy" of the honor by making an outstanding record in scholarship, leadership and service through three years of the Hill.

Ably led by Sue McNamee, Mortar Board continued its service program, sponsorship of a Cellar hour, and joined forces with ODK and a faculty committee to discuss ways of improving scholarship and easing the student's burden of extracurricular activities.

The joint ODK—Mortar Board tea, tapping for Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honor society, and its own tapping ceremonies were features of the Spring quarter.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL

Coordination and cooperation were bywords for the Religious Council and its officers, Blanche Brandes, president; and Kyle Glenn, secretary. From all denominations on the campus came these members: Dick Allison, Rosemary Hoene, Hubert Harper, Joe Ed Hastings, Bill Ferguson, Taylor Kirby, Don Marietta, and Marty Stinson.

*First Row, left to right—Myers, McDonald, Allison, McAdams, Kirby, M. Kirby, Sanders.
Second Row—Hughes, Woosley, Stubbs, Brittain, Brandes, Stinson, Kirby, Grace, Underwood, Lewis.
Third Row—Edgar, Hale, Marietta, Key, Butler, Hastings, Higginbotham.*

CHI SIGMA PHI

Monday nights are synonymous with Chi Sig on the Hilltop. Their weekly meetings in Stockham have become noted for interesting, worthwhile programs and speakers plus the best in refreshments. Discussions afterward were wonderful experiences for ministerial students and just plain students who came to listen and learn.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Although naturally outnumbered by Methodists, these brave Baptists banded together again. Kyle Glenn presided over their meetings in Waters Chapel. The Chapel, located in Student Activities Building, is completely equipped and decorated even to a stained glass window. Other officers are Bill Ferguson, vice-president; Polly White, secretary; and Harry McNeel, faculty advisor.

Methodist Student Movement

Carrying over many worthwhile activities from their highly successful first year, the M. S. M. added substantially to their program and membership.

New students were honored at a Welcoming Banquet, and members gathered at Double Oak Mountain again for a retreat.

Such enthusiastic workers as Sue Pat Santmyer, Joe Kennedy, and Mary Farr Stone were leaders of young Birmingham Methodists.

The group also worked with and for the young people at the college church, McCoy Memorial.

Second Row—Kidd, Hughes, Harper, Ardovino, Bowers.
Back—Rosser, Digesu, Lorig, DiBenedetto, McNamee, Gore, Coleman, R. Hughes, Roepke, Bellinger, B. Gore, Licari, Sharbel, Holloran, Graham, Sansome.*

NEWMAN CLUB

Just like Old Golds, this group seems to grow and grow. Credit should go to Hubert Harper, president; Anthony Ardovino, vice-president; and Pat Bowers, secretary. Composed of Catholic members of the student body, the Newman Club heard several prominent Catholic clergymen and laymen at their meetings. On the lighter side there were several tres gay parties here and there.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y.W.'s bi-weekly meetings brought together girls from all over the campus who were interested in philanthropic work. Programs at Y meeting acquired a well deserved reputation for quality and interest.

Highlighting the year's work was the party given for youngsters from the Ensley Community House.

KAPPA DELTA EPSILON

Teaching problems, be they kindergarten or college, were foremost in the minds of K.D.E.'s.

Being good sisters to Kappa Phi Kappa, the girls did most of the work on the teachers' annual party.

President Phyllis Anderson and Faculty Advisor Evelyn Wiley represented Kappa Delta Epsilon at the UNESCO meeting in Mexico.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA

Education is a wonderful thing to these enthusiastic future teachers.

Under the leadership of such capable officers as Don Marietta, Elvin Edgar, George Middleton, and Bernard Calderbank, the group studied various phases of the teaching profession.

Dr. J. M. Malone served as faculty advisor.

ETA SIGMA PHI

Latin was anything but a dead language to the members of Eta Sigma Phi, the honorary classical language fraternity.

Elsie Ann Zander presided over the Latin and Greek scholars. Don Marietta, vice-president; Gloria Gilmore, secretary; and Mary Leta English, treasurer, assisted her.

Other members interested in the language and customs of ancient Rome and Athens were Richard Allison, Clyde Cook, Johnny Jeff, and James Johnson.

OFFICERS

*Chairman—CHARLES HORN
Secretary—PEGGY MALLOY
Public Information—WILLENE PAXTON*

*Safety Services—GEORGE FOSS
Home Nursing—BETTYE JANE SMITH Nutrition—BETTY HOLLIS; PAT BRITAIN*

The College Unit once again became an active organization on the Hilltop. The necessity of Production for the Men and Women of the Armed Forces had ended, and our attention is turned to "Main Street," that is, community services.

Several projects were undertaken this year. Christmas boxes were sent to our soldiers who would be on the High Seas at Christmas.

Many young ladies perfected their technique at meal planning through the nutrition program.

The Annual Fund Drive was well supported by the students, also the project of sending writing supplies to the students in schools of Europe.

The swimming pool became a popular place when spring rolled around. Everyone was eager to take the Swimming and Life Saving courses.

INDEPENDENT WOMEN

Stockham's basement was the scene of Independent Women's activity although you could nearly always find an Independent or two in the Gym.

Volleyball and ping pong cups were added to an already loaded collection. Basketball laurels were just missed in a playoff with AOPi and Pi Phi.

Irene Gulledge and Bib Hughes lived up to the Independents' sporting tradition by being named Athlete of the Year and Senior Manager, respectively.

Irene and Ellen Williams, their president, were among the top ten high point women.

Ellen and Tony Rizzo sang in the May Day Chorus, while Frances Norton and Ann Flemming contributed their time and talent to the College Theater. As a group the girls worked on Cat's Paw, Sadie Hawkins, and the Christmas Carnival Parade.

Speaking of Christmas, the Independent Room boasted a real tree and decorations for their annual Christmas party.

Lucky ladies, Leticia Hernandez and Joyce Sassaman, were treated to surprise birthday parties.

Even though Faculty Advisor Coach Ben Englebert wasn't on hand, it was a really great year, Independently speaking.

ORCHESTRA

Under the direction of Stephen Dill, the College Orchestra continued to grow in size and improve in performance.

Its regular appearances in the auditorium pit during Convocation added much to the all-school programs.

In addition its members cooperated with the music department and college theater in providing music for concerts and shows. Many of its members took part in chamber music concerts and in making up the full orchestra of Starlight Opera.

Some were music majors on the Hill and at the Conservatory. Others contributed their time and talent extra-curricularly. All, though, had in common a real love of music and a desire to share it with others.

The COLLEGE CHOIR

The famed Hilltop Choir reached a new high in performance and reputation this year under the direction of Raymond Anderson.

Following a concert-packed schedule to all parts of Alabama, they carried good music to the people in the distinctive Anderson style.

In the Magic City their talents were used to aid the college in its Joint Drive with Howard for building funds.

On campus the Choir was ready with music for every major function from the Beauty Parade to Religious Emphasis Week.

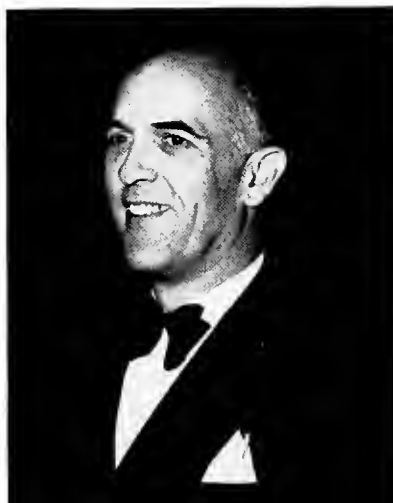

The annual tour took the group through North Florida for seven concerts in five days, and the Ensemble covered South Alabama with as many concerts in four days.

Already recognized as one of the top college choirs in the nation, Southern's choral unit seemed to be sitting pretty on the top rung. The campus is proud of it—with reason.

DIRECTORS

Raymond F. Anderson (right) and his assistant, James Hatcher, led the College Choir through a rigorous schedule in '48. It was Anderson's tenth year on the Hill, and his skillful direction and planning were reflected in the perfection of the choir.

The COLLEGE THEATRE

The dramatic touch was definitely evident on the Hill this year in talent on-stage and behind the scenes.

Fall found the Thespians producing "Playboy of the Western World" in true Kilarney manner. Leading the cast were Hubert Harper, Ann Coats, and Vic Moore.

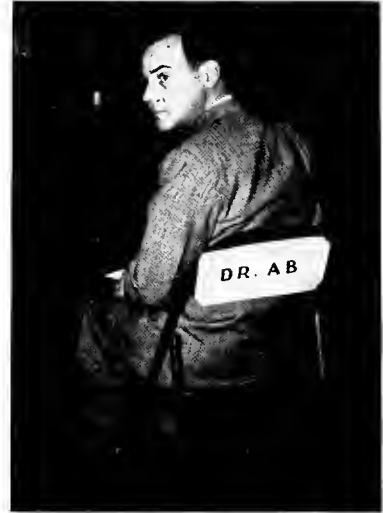

Costuming was ably handled by Ruth Shapard, assisted by Sue Wilkins. Props were the personal worry of Pat Brittain, while Jimmy Johnson pulled the back-stage strings and made the wires connect on the electrical system.

Specialists from the Art Department gave a skilled touch to the scenery, and with the help of scores of others the College Theatre productions consistently maintained a reputation of finish and near-perfection.

Home of theatricals on the Hill, the Stud-ac Building sheltered the theater's personal property as well as lending its halls for rehearsals, parties, painting, and carpentering.

Dr. "Ab" in the director's chair guided and developed the dramatic talent of Hilltop troupers. His quarter's leave of absence was keenly felt in this department where interest in the production of good drama has grown through the years under his direction.

The 1947-48 College Theater was supervised by student officers, C. M. Dendy, president; Anne Lewis, vice-president; and Pat Brittain, secretary. They bore the burdens of rosters, tickets, tryouts, publicity, bills and balancing books.

Below, Dr. Abernethy explains a fine point in dramatics to Vic Moore and Ann Coats.

MU ALPHA

It would be impossible to list here all the activities of Mu Alpha during 1948. This group of young musicians under the direction of James Hatcher took the whole town in their stride.

They re-organized and sponsored the Ushers Club (opposite page), built a record library and listening room, and presented music concerts and recitals throughout the year.

Of special interest were student recitals in May during the Festival of the Allied Arts. A drive for new members and alumni rounded out the most progressive and fruitful year in the society's history.

Bottom, right—After hours it was "La Paree." Mimi Benzell and Lily May Caldwell chat.

USHERS CLUB

ANDREWS

Known as the "Roost," Andrews Hall sits atop the highest peak on Enon Ridge and is home to all the "furrin gals" who mark their time on the Hill.

The second date parlor, (below), was a favorite gathering place particularly when Ponce Brock was at the piano. There were gala evenings of singing for all, or a two-some on "Chopsticks," or Chopin, Gershwin, and plenty of Johnny Merceh.

Five-part harmony was made this time by Pat Brittain, Ponce Brock, Ruth McAdams, Jo Sansome, and Peggy McDonald.

A card table wasn't necessary furniture, but cards were, and any time after 5 p.m. you could find the sharks indulging in bridge, or if energy permitted, in Slap. Third floor cronies gathered below are Betty Woodham, Sue Wilkins, Ardell Uherka, Jerry Culver, and Louise Cooper.

(Opposite)—This is how the day began—with Pepsodent and pig bristles. Jean Woosley and Evelyn Sanders reflect the "seven o'clock look"!

HALL

These are the things remembered: Our independent status which meant no Mom to do the ironing; the traffic jam on the landing where the mirror reflected our efforts to keep a good front; midnight snacks of town-bought staples supplemented by those longed-for boxes from home; the office, which represented regimentation, rules, and . . . phone calls; and, of course, our desks, loaded with books, and a constant reminder of why we arrived in the first place.

STUDENTS in AMERICAN COLLEGES and UNIVERSITIES

To be chosen one of the outstanding few included in "Who's Who" is one of the greatest honors which can come to a student during his college career. Inclusion in this publication is based upon a student's scholarship, leadership, ability, and extra-curricular activities. Only those fifteen men and women who meet the stringent requirements of the society were selected for this honor. The Who's Who gold key was presented at Southern to (seated above, left to right) C. M. Dendy, Sue McNamee, Elbert Norton, Blanche Brandes, Joe Zicarelli, Pat Brittain, Elvin Edgar; (standing) George Taylor, Mary Leta English, John Jeff, Anne Lewis, Elizabeth Hughes, Tom Averitt, Elsa Allgood, James Shores.

The Toreadors Club affords economics and business administration majors an opportunity for "bull-sessions" and lectures by leaders in that field. Protégés of Dr. Hawk, this group is among the most lively and enthusiastic on the campus. Their newly-furnished club room in Ramsay drew groups of "bull-fighters" for coffee, study, and talk every hour during the day.

Standing—Zicarelli, Chimovitch, Atkins, Gilliam, Whited, Gilliam, Charlee, Palmer, Sorey, Diers, Bello, Peters, Serota, Richey, Clepper, Cornelius.

PI DELTA PSI

Claiming the Doctors Freud and Gessell as spiritual founders, this group of psychology majors meets to explore the realm of the mind more fully than is possible in curricularly allotted time.

Extensive reading and discussion of psychological books comprise the main subjects for Pi Delta Psi programs which are uniformly interesting and informative.

Sponsored by the history department and led by Dr. Sensabaugh, the International Relations Club is made up of students from all departments of the college who are interested in the betterment of world conditions through understanding the current problems of different nations. Lectures and discussions at their monthly meetings gave IRC members the inside line on current affairs.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

Standing—Barnes, Cross, Shores, Allgood.

PHI SIGMA IOTA

Standing—Prodoehl, McNamee, Turner, Joiner, Williams, Powell, Amstutz, Constans.

Finding a common source in Latin, the languages represented in Phi Sigma Iota draw majors and faculty members from this field. A great honor, election to this society gives language majors a valuable contact with many languages and cultures.

A deep interest in the language and culture of the German people, their literature, philosophy, and science, is the basis of this honor society for students of German. Students with high scholastic averages in the language are tapped for membership during their second year. Aably sponsored and directed by Dr. Austin Prodoehl, this group is consistently active in following the program of the club.

DELTA PHI ALPHA

Standing—Prodoehl, Allgood, Moore, Cox, Stone, Amstutz, Godwin.

ENTRE AMIGOS

Standing—Hoene, Williams, McMillan, Crowder, McGowan, Walker, Rizzo, Turner, Acton, Jones.

The lure of Latin America draws these Spanish students together for informal sessions of speaking the language and studying the customs of our Good Neighbors to the south. With Senors

Hernandez and McNeel on hand to keep the conversational ball rolling, students never failed to profit from the bi-weekly gatherings.

Grooming themselves for perfection in the diplomatic language of the world, French students met regularly with Monsieur Constans for sparkling if sometimes stumbling conversational sessions. Topics ranged from the glorious reign of Louis XIV to the works of Voltaire, Rousseau, and Moliere. Tongues clicked and minds were richer for the hours spent together.

LeCERCLE FRANCAIS

Seated, left to right—Davies, Powell, Joiner, Crowder, Whitehead.

Standing—Harper, Turner, Coleman, Williams, Bowers, Constans.

THETA SIGMA LAMBDA

Honorary for the elite minority who understand the intricacies of mathematics, Theta Sigma Lambda membership is a sought-after crown for math majors. Their prime interest centers around the discussion of recent discoveries in the fields of mathematics and physics and in the projects which the members themselves undertake.

Only those who have shown interest in chemistry and its related subjects and who have displayed their talents in this field are extended invitations to join this honor society for chemistry majors. Through a program of exchange in ideas and reports of recent scientific developments, this group encourages research and experimentation and promotes greater interest in the realm of chemistry.

A mutual interest in sports brought about the organization of the P. E. Club under the able leadership of Miss Davis. Their main purpose lay in promoting interest in sports on the campus. Their popular Milk Bar drew hungry crowds to the gym and ping-pong tables, and it was through their leadership that the Cheerleaders were organized.

For Southern's first varsity basketball squad in many years the first cheer-leading group in as many years was organized to keep up the spirit during inter-collegiate matches. Their catchy songs and cheers helped to keep interest in varsity basketball at a high pitch.

ALABAMA BETA BETA CHAPTER

Again this year the A.T.O.'s lived up to their reputation of being the leaders on the Hill. They excelled in athletic, scholastic, and social activities, and every important event had one or more A.T.O.'s helping to put it over. "Those A.T.O. parties" became justly famous and the boys' Monte Carlo, Double Oak, and Florida parties set the pace for the campus social season. In athletics, too, the Maltese Cross placed right at the top with highly successful baseball, football, and track seasons. The Alpha Tau's still found time to conduct a rewarding rush season, meet with out-of-town brothers, and plan the annual state conclave.

The A.T.O.'s were key men on the campus and their energy forwarded many projects. John Jeff became a member of O.D.K. and was chairman of the Cellar Committee. C. M. Dendy wrote and directed the winning Cats Paw stunt beside holding the gavel of the College Theater presidency. Fred Sherrill and Bob Grace managed the newly organized Student Book Exchange and Charlie Horn proved highly efficient in his duties as Student Chairman of the Red Cross. Publications held interest for many of the brothers. Jimmie Ogle stepped from his position as News Editor for the Hilltop News to Business Manager of the Southern Accent, while Sports Editor, Joe Cunniff found time to play football and be Mr. Hilltopper, and Bill Johnson held down positions of H.T.N. Feature Editor and Vice President of Eta Sigma Phi. Vic Moore and Holmes Irving had roles in College Theater productions and Bob Jones started a riot on Sadie Hawkins Day with his Dogpatch Stomp. Wih Coaches Webb Roberts and Cletus Bonds giving pointers, Booty Jennings and Bill Phillips won lasting football fame, while trackmen Art Sharbel, John Blane and Edgar Elliot won laurels for themselves and the fraternity. It was such honors as these that led to increasingly often repetition of the phrase, "Why, he's an A.T.O., of course."

BETA DELTA CHAPTER

The year 1947-1948 has been a great one for the Delta Sigs. It has been a year full of activity and participation for all members, as individuals as well as a fraternity. Under the able leadership of president Gary Dobbs, the Delta Sigs have made considerable progress in the year past.

The Delta Sigs social season got under way with a whirl of rush parties that netted twenty pledges. From then on the socials got bigger and better. Among others, there was the Halloween party given by the pledges in honor of the actives. There was the Annual Shipwreck ball, the annual Houseparty and Christmas dance.

This year the fraternity celebrated its Founders Day in conjunction with the Delta Sig Chapter at the University. The Banquet was held at the McAllister Hotel in Tuscaloosa on December 10th, and included among the speakers for the evening was Delta Sig Roderick Beddow. After the banquet the Beta Delta Chapter was the guest of the University Chapter at their fraternity house for a house dance.

As usual the Annual Spring Formal was one of the best of the year. The original decorations, always a must for the Delta Sigs, went to make the dance an outstanding occasion.

The Delta Sigs went out for other activities besides socials however. Each member went afar, and attained his own laurels. Vice President Willard "Stony" Jackson was elected President of the Inter-Fraternity Council and also served as assistant manager of the newly-formed Book Exchange. Stony was also active in athletics and everything else that the fraternity participated in.

Politico Donald Deagon was elected to membership in ODK and took over as secretary of the Inter-Fraternity Council as well as the fraternity. Donald was also active in both school publications and other campus organizations including the College Theater.

Ernie Jones also was active in the College Theatre, and Ed Elam took a prominent place in the Choir. Bill Morton never missed a chance to go to a campus social, and R. B. Norton never missed a football game. Treasurer Charles Carter managed to keep the books well balanced during the year and even came up with a surplus.

Don Culley of the faculty became an active Delta Sig in '47, and he was a great asset to the fraternity as he helped the group in many ways.

Barracks upper C became the site of Delta Sig meetings and was also the living quarters of many of the brothers, as the inevitable radio station took over the room in the Student Activities Building.

Socials, sports, increased membership, new living quarters, new faculty members, new honors; they all add up to a great year indeed for Beta Delta of Delta Sigma Phi.

PHI CHAPTER

. . . '47-'48 looked kindly on the boys of Kappa Alpha. The goals set up by the "Grand 'Ole Gang" were met quite successfully in scholarship, athletics, and social life, and high standards they were. Undoubtedly the greatest event in the K.A. year was the acquisition of a homestead at 831 8th Court West. The house immediately became not only a home but the seat of the K.A.'s spirit

The Sons of the South were led through the year's activities under the guidance of Ed "Iron Hand" Bagley who in his number-one capacity showed the way through a successful year. He was ably assisted by vice-president Peaches Taylor and secretary Bill Travis. Guy Tutwiler performed gallantly the duties of "arm twister" or treasurer.

In Southern's World of Sports the K.A.'s wielded quite a bit of influence. The pennants for tennis, football, softball, horseshoes and more, continued to clutter the already bedecked walls of K.A. mansion. The football season was highlighted by the 19-6 defeat of the Sewanee Champs. As far as scholarship went, those honors also migrated K.A. way rather consistently.

The annual ball honoring the birthday of Robert E. Lee was festive as usual. There were numerous good times at the new house although none quite lived up to the "Bum" party of the Thanksgiving holidays. The houseparty at Peyton Higginson's in Mobile was without doubt the most talked about affair of the year.

Seventy strong, the Kappa Alpha boys showed their stuff in 1947-1948.

It was sad!

THETA MU CHAPTER

Important history for Southern's chapter of Lambda Chi was made in 1947-48. Under the leadership of the new president, Steve Downs, progress was made in all phases of fraternity activity.

High among the activities developing in the Lambda Chi 'whitehouse' were the chapter socials. The winter and spring quarters saw several house parties, the annual Founders' Day dance, and the inauguration of a program for honoring campus sororities. During the summer the members took their guests to such pleasant retreats as the Cahaba River, Tapawingo, Pine View Beach, and the home of Commander McElvain. When school reopened in September, social chairman Bill Enloe started a series of social events of a very novel character. Their success is still being praised.

Meanwhile the chapter has not been idle among the more serious aspects of camp's life. Under the leadership of such students as Dick Blanton, Roy Howard, Bill Low, and John Pool, the chapter has maintained a high scholastic average, and expects to offer considerable competition for the new scholarship cup during 1948. In other activities M. L. Gunnin has served as president of the Interfraternity Council; John Pool has served three quarters on the Executive Council; five members—Phil Berry, Bill Enloe, Tommy Peterson, Rollin Roberts, and Bob Smith—has parts in the winning drama at Catspaw. But to top them all, the fraternity gave its production at Interfraternity Sing clad in T-shirts and tux pants, much to the mixed concern and admiration of the audience.

In athletics the chapter did not always stand high in the win column, but it never failed to put a spirited team on the field. And in 140-pound "Buck" Julian, Lambda Chi claims one of the best-liked and most capable athletes on the campus.

Good leadership by house managers Mac Hall and Eddie Self in the meantime have provided Lambda Chis and their friends with the best meals on the campus, and have made the house the center of real fraternity fun and friendship.

DELTA CHAPTER

In '47-'48 it was PiKA all the way! The Delta Chapter here on the Hilltop joined Alabama's other three Pi Kappa Alpha Chapters and made it another great year for the Shield and Diamond.

The Pikes led off the year winning the Interfraternity Sing trophy, which is getting to be a tradition around these parts. How could they miss with a College Choir, three fourths of which were PiKA's and such "crooners" as Hunter, Turner, Cameron, and Elgin.

Godwin, a permanent fixture in ODK, saw three of his brothers, Calderbank, Harper, and Dillard, move in and join him in the local circle. Calderbank also outclassed all opponents to win a Men's Upper Division berth.

Socially speaking, the Pikes were tops. With such parties as hayrides to Cosby and Pearl Lake, picnics at Tapawingo, a Gay 90's party, a barbecue at Brother Rogers' house, stag banquets at the Jack O'Lantern, and those dine and dance evenings at the Miami Club, not to mention informals at Highland Park.

On the athletic field the Pikes were well represented. There was Dillard on the Varsity Tennis Team, Carlton and Green, Varsity Basketball, Sutherland, All Star Basketball and Football, Hammett and Carlton, All Star Softball, Brown, winner of the Intramural Tennis tournament and Upton, Champ Horseshoe tosser.

Prexy "Elmo" Chambers and his boys again inaugurated the dance season with their annual "Garnet and Gold" Ball with Dot Thompson as their leading lady.

Underwood emceed the Sadie Hawkins Day Program and also managed the stage for Cat Paw. Coker, on the Hilltop News staff, handled the Sports Department. The Cook brothers went to New York for a radio show, Alexander held down the College Theater during Dr. Ab's absence. Meacham made Mu Alpha on a piano solo, and all the boys pitched in and the result was thirteen new pledges in the Fall.

If it weren't for space limitations here, this list of honors would go on and on. We must stop somewhere. As you can see the PiKA's carried off honors in every field.

ALPHA IOTA CHAPTER

Continuing concern of the Sig Alphas this year has been a fraternity house, plans and action with the alumni having been great and varied—E. A. “Abie” Trent, sparking the drive.

The pledge class, meanwhile, made plans for redecoration of the fraternity “cubicle” in the gym.

Sports saw fine participation with Williams high point man in Football. The invincible swim team led by Craig Mitchell carried off the 1947 pennant, taking all but one event, and the volleyball team with “all-over-the-court” Bouffard, proved formidable.

The annual Double Oak Mountain house party outdid its predecessors for sunburn and hilarity. (“Lover” Cowles was missed this year). Climaxing the social season in May, the Orchid Formal surpassed all dances for beauty of decoration and good music. Most sincerely appreciated compliment was, “Why it didn’t look like the gym at all!”

With an eye to the public, Norton received plaudits as President of the Student Body, while “Foo Foo” Foss held down treasurer’s seat on the Executive Council.

In scholarship the Sons of Minerva ranked high. Competing with one-hundred and eighteen other chapter of SAE, Alabama Iota tied with Pennsylvania Omega at Allegheny College for the National Fraternity Scholarship cup.

High in leadership too were James Seay, new initiate of ODK, and Elbert Norton, selected for Who’s Who in American Colleges.

The long awaited revival of the Alabama Iota Items, occasional publication of the chapter, was greeted with enthusiasm, and alumni who were featured seemed pleased.

Riggs Stephenson, past E.A., and Henrietta Villines took the big step and then moved to Tuscaloosa “to live happily ever . . .”.

The fraternity played host to Chapter Supervisor Al Schoth and assistant A. C. Holler during the year and received “helpful hints.”

All Sleep and Eat men look forward to the coming Founder’s Day banquet to be attended by brothers from over the state. All are cognizant of their part in a bigger, better SAE.

BETA XI CHAPTER

The Ox-Men celebrated another full year with the annual formal dance and the Rebel Reunion climaxing an eventful season of social activities. Mixed in with athletics and rushing, the Theta Chi's feel justly proud of the work accomplished throughout the year.

After rushing, the Ox-Men settled down to the hard work that precedes an annual dance. Opening the winter season, the dance featured a revolving glass ball, the names of all in the leadout flashing on as they appeared, and, of course, the "Dream Girl" set. Afterwards the Ox-Men went to the Cavu Club for their annual breakfast, where President Bert Bradley presented Richard McLendon, past president with a key in recognition of his fine work.

The Tenth Annual Rebel Reunion, the "Terrific Tenth", that is, welcomed delegates from all the Theta Chi chapters in this district. In addition, National President Earl "Dusty" Rhodes and Regional Counselor Roy Grizzell were present among many dignitaries. The banquet and dance high-lighted the weekend where brothers united in fun and friendship.

In the party line, there's that Halloween affair at Witch's End where spooks abounded and fun was supreme. Hayrides put a lot of life in the year, too. Camp Cosby was inevitably the scene of these attractions. And, of course, the rush parties won't easily be forgotten. Progressive dinners, banquets, informal dances, stag parties, and masquerades were the standouts of the year.

Forward strides were made in athletics and scholarship also. The brothers of Theta Chi played football, basketball, volley ball, and softball with added relish this year, and all the other odds and ends of intramural sports were participated in by those who felt athletically inclined. Members made it a point to make better grades throughout the year, too, and pulled up the fraternity average considerably.

OX-ing: The costume that Joe D'Accardi rigged up for the Halloween party took the proverbial cake . . . Gene Aromi and Vince Roepke get this year's award for brotherly love. There wasn't a hayride all year where they weren't driving the trucks . . . John Evans kept saying before each game, "I can't play football today." He played! . . . Hubert Snow's marriage to Helen Hassler brought out the crowd. And you should have seen the decorations on that honeymoon car . . . John Dunbar complained all last Fall about not being able to pass. Of course, he made the Dean's list . . . We all got a large charge when Stuart Nicholson finally made a two-pointer in a basketball game . . . Leroy Whited finally gave Baby Milstead a ring last Christmas . . . Buck Rivas surprised everyone including himself by passing everything . . . And the Ox-men lived up to expectations and spent the best year thus far seen on this Old Hilltop.

ALPHA OMEGA CHAPTER

The past year has been a busy one for the Alpha Omega Chapter of Alpha Chi Omega. President, Marty Stinson and alumna, Dot Thompson went to Canada for the National Convention. Some of the girls marched down the aisle to the tune of "Here Comes the Bride" namely Aline Anderson and Lib Moore. We were proud at placing first in scholarship and at winning "Catspaw." Everywhere we looked we saw Alpha Chi's going to different honorary societies and clubs; Marty Stinson and Mary Whitehead to Mortar Board, Thelma Paxton to Theta Sigma Lambda and Alpha Lambda Delta, and Lib Moore to Delta Phi Alpha. Mu Alpha claimed Helen Chandler, Emily Wright and Poncy Brock as did Chi Nu Tau for Aline Anderson.

We led a hard and fast life during Rush Season, with parties and classes confusing the issue. The Gay Nineties Party in Mr. Anderson's Studio with Marty Stinson, Eunice Mitchell, Helen Chandler, and Miriam Wilder as "Can-can" girls was a big success. As was the Monte Carlo Party at the home of Joy Barnhart and the Spaghetti Supper at Marydean Westbrook's. The Annual Banquet was held at the Molton Hotel on Founder's Day, October 15. We were proud of the girls who took part in the Christmas Carnival. These were Marilyn Boutwell, Audrey Brown, Inez Wise, Thelma Paxton, Dudley Dovel, and Marty Stinson. Things we saw and liked during the year: Nelda Nall, Poncy Brock, and Emily Wright going to orchestra; Helen Chandler and Sara Mills playing the piano; Martha Holley and Kathelyn Day in a "stew" because the Cafeteria had good food; Mary Ann Hall and Ann Shields going home to cook Bill and Lewis dinner; Joy Barnhart and Eunice Mitchell going to the River; Sara Compton and Willine Paxton forever in the bookstore; Betty Sullivan introducing every one to her well-known and good looking brother; and Miriam Wilder trying to make the Banquet a big success.

Congratulations to all new officers; we know they'll be a success. Some good times have been had by all of us and we are looking forward to another year just as happy

TAU DELTA CHAPTER

AOPis were on their toes this year, so it's little wonder that they left their mark on the Hill, in every field from sports to drama.

The basketball trophy was theirs again with Bowers and Allgood claiming all-star rank. Patsy Collins spiked enough volleyballs to join its all-star team, and Ruth Harris proved her versatility in every sport of the year.

The gym played host to others too: Marilyn Cooper on the business end of the Hilltop News displayed her talent so well that she weathered the battery of elections to hold office for another year. Prexy Allgood kept her company in the neighboring office grinding out copy for the Accent.

Then there was Mr. Hilltopper to produce for the benefit of Kentucky's Frontier Nursing Service. A tremendous success, it marked the debut of a new campus comedy act, the AOPi "Kitty Hill Four."

Dramatically speaking, they bolstered the ranks of the College Theater. Ruth Shapard guarded the wardrobe while Peggy Malloy, Kitty Holder, and Pat Bowers took the bows.

Peggy Greenhill, Kitty Holder, and Sara LeSueur traveled and soloed with the Choir while "Montana," back from the West, fiddled her way into orchestral groups.

Everyone was busy. Norma Ham reigned in the Cellar, Ernestine Chapple secretaried for Gaines on second-floor Munger, Betty Lois Arnett supervised the Y.W.C.A., and Jimmie Nell Real held a chair on the Executive Council.

The social side was hardly lacking with a trip to Cooper's camp, the Christmas dance complete with Santa Claus, suppers in the room, and of course, the annual ball.

Being Leap Year there were pins, rings, and wedding bells in profusion. Merlee Sears got a head start in December, followed by Julia Smallman and Leona Lasater. Peggy Greenhill planned for June and Ruth Harris for the Fall.

The accent for AOPi was broad this year. It came all the way from Montana, Wisconsin, North Carolina, South Alabama, and met in glory atop Enon Ridge.

ALPHA RHO CHAPTER

It is hard to realize that all of the splendiferous times we've had this year are only memories.

Remember how proud we were of our beautiful new room last September? It couldn't have been better for informal parties, luncheons and just plain gab sessions all year long. Perhaps not spotless at all times.

To show our little sisters how proud we were of them, we gave a banquet at the Ridgley. Sharing honors were the new initiates. The actives presented each honoree with a corsage of pink carnations. The pledges were further introduced to the order at our annual Founder's Day Celebration, on November 11. We were happy to see so many of our June graduates and newly-marrieds there. Mrs. Felonese Kelly, alumnae president, told us of the growth and expansion of our sorority through seventy-three years. Betty Henckell, Vice President, deserves a lot of credit for the wonderful job she did on the December dance. Decorations were perfect, music good and the general "good time was had by all." Special guests were the Lambda Chis. We wanted them to know how much we enjoyed the party they gave us.

Making the Fall quarter complete was our president's trip to Mexico City (the vivid details of which were enjoyed by everyone); "Pride unbounded" the only expression to describe our feeling when Martelia Bell and Dorothy Doerr (Octy and Dottie) were on the all-star volleyball team. Mary Gene Gammon was the same for softball. During the Christmas holidays some of us found time to attend the wedding of Lola Sue Johnson and Steve Downs in Fort Payne.

Valentine's Day brought with it the traditional Gamma Phi Beta off-campus dinner-dance. It is hard to say whether dining or dancing was enjoyed more. In April, the big event of the year was realized in our formal dance. The traditional Carnation Ball was supplemented this year by the election of "The Lady of the Moon" as most outstanding Gamma Phi Beta of the year. And just in time to miss the confusion of finals, graduation, and June weddings was another exhausting, exhilarating House Party. We are sorry to say good-bye to the seniors and soon-to-be-marrieds, but are glad there is another year in Alpha Rho of Gamma Phi Beta ahead for most.

ALPHA UPSILON CHAPTER

Each quarter of the year found the Kappa Delta sisters busier than ever. During the fall came the big Golden Anniversary Tea and the annual Christmas Tea Dance. Winter saw the initiation of a wonderful pledge class led by pledge president Jo Ann Hunter and well trained by slave-driver Lindsay. Finally spring brought the flowers and the annual White Rose Ball.

Throughout the year K.D.'s were busy in campus activities and in gathering honors. Sadie Hawkins Day beauty was led by "Daisy Mae" McNabb, while sports were led by "Lefty" Byars, star of the girls' football game. With the coming of basketball Raymona and "Gin" Owen were in there cheering. Among the lucky ones making those talked-of choir trips were Ruth Jennings, vice president of the Choir, Jackie Horton, "Poke and Parasol" Whetstone, Jane Hutchins, Norma Jean Williams, and Francile Cannon. Always practicing for that piano lesson, Caroline Norton, Mary Cathryn Underwood, and Mary Lois Grayson did themselves proud at the Conservatory.

Elizabeth Wall brought culture to the chapter; Jo Smith usually brought food; Peggy Rountree's effective rushing brought pledges;

Hazel Clark tried to bring better grades; Carol Ann Smith led the chapter in bringing to a little boy in the Crippled Children's Clinic pleasure at Christmas and throughout the year.

Carrying on the Kappa Delta tradition of capturing the cutest men, Emily Lindsay, Kitty Fouche, and Margaret Mathews wore fraternity pins. Shirley Kilpatrick was a step ahead with a diamond. Dot West, Margaret Ensen, Betty Gore, Raymona Mary Jo, Carol Ann, Norma Jean, and Ruth Jennings paraded among the prettiest of the beauties.

From the University came Linn Williams to park her car in front of the bookstore. To the dorm came Naomi Webb, Jackie Wise, Sue Hamilton, and Jo Ann Powers. Nena Berry came to raise the scholastic average. Eukie McNutt and Alta London came to represent the family. Art talent came to the chapter with Margaret Cooper and Carol Lowry.

Madly swinging a gavel and trying to keep up with all this was prexy Jane Hutchins, also president of Panhellenic and wearer of the Mortar Board. It was a great big busy year for Kappa Delta at Southern as the girls looked forward to greater years ahead.

ALABAMA ALPHA CHAPTER

New targets have come into sight for the Pi Phi arrow this year, and the Alabama Alpha scored bullseye in all departments.

The first hit was racked up in the fall rush season when eleven enthusiastic new Pi Phis were added to the chapter rolls. Following pledging, the actives were treated to a Chinese dinner and returned the compliment with the traditional Mother-Daughter tea.

The customary Christmas open house and a brand new feature, the Leap Year party, marked the capable direction of Frances Martin, was the most original in the memory of the chapter in its use of Greek columns, silvered trees, and flash powder. The Easter Tea, honoring national editor, Mrs. T. N. Alford, and Founder's Day banquet rounded out the Pi Phi social schedule.

Pi Phi arrows were in evidence in all phases of campus activities. Anne Lewis and Maude Diseker represented upper and lower division women respectively on the Executive Council. Intramural Council awarded all star titles to Anne Lewis and Henrietta Martin in volley ball, and to Peggy McDonald and Sara Killingsworth in Basketball. Betty Ray Price sparked the swimming team. Who's Who among American College and University Students recognized four Pi Phis—Phyllis Anderson, Pat Brittain, Anne Lewis and Sue McNamee. The Beauty Parade in January was one of the chapter's highest scores, placing Nancy Johnson in the favorite section and Phyllis Anderson, Ann Coats, and Anne Lewis in the beauty pages.

It looked very much as if Cupid were aiming the Pi Phi arrows this year judging from the fact that Rew, Brittain, Coats, Kirk, Miller, Cochran, Kicker, Scogin, and Martin, pointed their pins straight up and put frat pins beside them. Another indication was the fact that Ann Newell, Ann McPhail, Jamie Harris, Naomi Duncan, and Susie Harris traded frat pins for wedding rings.

Alabama Alpha continued to improve its aim this year and plans to keep in practice for bigger and better bullseyes.

Rushing with a song.

XI CHAPTER

The Theta U's are one of the most active groups on this Hilltop, despite the fact that they are few in number. They've participated in practically every field of activity on the campus, capably filling the ranks of organizations with versatile talent and eager workers. Apollo being their patron, it's no wonder that there are so musicians in the group. Jean Gilmer, a member of Mu Alpha, and Bonnie Ruth Taylor are music majors and members of the college choir, as are Eoline McGowan, Mary Ann Casimes, Julia Ann Gilmer, and Ramona Brooks. Ramona also represented the sorority at the Beauty Ball on January 25.

LaNelle Crowder, that scholastic marvel who never misses the Dean's list, was chosen for membership in Phi Sigma Iota. Eoline MacGowan was elected to Delta Phi Alpha and Betty Jo Mann to Kappa Delta Epsilon. That Crowder girl walked off with the sorority scholarship cup this year, after two consecutive wins by Marjory Kirby.

The social life of the Theta U's has been far from dull. Rushing was a whirl of parties—including a buffet supper, a circus party, and a progressive dinner. Right in the midst of rushing came the news that a Xi alumna, Dee (Foster) Sims, had become national chapter vice-president, after having been national editor and holding several other important posts. A tea was given in her honor on Sept. 28 at Stockham Hall, with Theta U's from all over the state joining in the festivities.

Halloween was marked by a gala informal at the home of Jessie Freeman, province president.

With the cold winds of winter came the Christmas Carnival parade, in which Jean Gilmer, Betty Mann, Eoline McGowan, Bonnie Ruth Taylor, and Ramona Brooks graced the floats of two South American "Princesses" while Julia Ann Gilmer represented the sorority on the BSC float.

The debut of 1948 was celebrated in fine style with a party, complete with paper hats, noisemakers, confetti, and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne"

Business was combined with pleasure when a benefit bridge party was given in January to aid Berea College, at Berea Kentucky, Thea Upsilon's national philanthropic work. The annual Founder's Day banquet, at which actives and alumnae honored Theta Upsilon's nine founders, was held at the Molton Hotel January 17, just one week before that glad day, January 24, of the sorority's annual formal dance. The decorations, all white, deep green, and silver, were a perfect background for Prexy Eoline MacGowan's white satin gown, as she led the dance with Johnny Jeff. Several visits to their sisters at Iota Alpha and Alpha Alpha chapters at Auburn and the University of Alabama rounded out the year for Thea U's here at Southern.

ALPHA NU CHAPTER

The Zeta's were all over the campus 1947-48, acting in Cat's Paw, working in the College Theatre, racing after their man on Sadie Hawkins' Day, singing in the Starlight Operas and ushering for Hatch.

Mary Leta English and "Fran" Jones won the Tennis Doubles Tournament, thus clinching the cup and Betty Underwood won the Ping Pong Championship. We were second in Volley Ball, but who will ever forget that famous "slam ball" of Mary Leta's. There are Zetas in Phi Delta Psi, Chi Sigma Phi, Eta Sigma Phi and Alpha Lambda Delta, while Mary Leta was mentioned in Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities.

Our new President, "Roco" Timberlake and Bess Sheperd were elected to the School's Executive Council. "Roco" is also secretary of Pan Hellenic Council and of Mu Alpha while Bess is Secretary of the Council and of the Publications Board. We had royalty this year when Susan Adams and Karel Bradley were chosen as Princesses for the Annual Birmingham Christmas Carnival. There were ten other Zetas riding the floats so it looked like a call meeting.

Our Annual Christmas Tea Dance, with its blue and silver decorations and large stag line, was a huge success, as were the Coke parties in the room, the dinner dance at Betty Barbour's and the pledge's Valentine party.

The future Calendar includes the Beauty Parade, sponsored by the Southern Accent, in which eight Zetas will march, Interfraternity Sing, May Day, "The Dance" and the weddings of Jean Cochran, Sarah Fisch, Anne Ellis, and Eleanor Pedigo. It's been a crowded year, but on looking back a few things stand out clearly—that bright smile of Mary Leta, Anne Smith's quiet humor, the troubles of Kitty and her Lafayette, the murmur from the continual bridge game in the room, the crash of ash trays as the pledges "clean house" and that sense of well being you get as the strains of "Zeta Blues" fill the air.

Trophies, the crest, Arvie points out the rest.

The STARLIGHT OPERA

Summer quarter and Starlight Opera have become practically synonymous to members of the music, dramatic, and art departments. The first of June finds carpenters busy building the outdoor stage in Munger Bowl, art students and Dramatic Workshop members planning and painting the sets, and choruses already well-versed in the role they will play in the Magic City's annual operatic undertaking.

This is the event that tells the town how much a part of the city their western college is, for without the talent, the resources, the long weeks of hard labor contributed by Birmingham-Southern, Starlight Opera would be left wanting.

These scenes from the production of "Rose Marie" give some idea of the work, talent, and fun that went into the making of the Friml operetta. Above, part of the cast, stage hands, electricians, and artists get together for a pose that gives complete coverage. Right, Johnny Silver is a laughing armful of perplexity for Southern's Clarence Cook. Below, the Mounties, on and off duty; those who toiled without top billing; and a tense but enjoyable moment in the life of "Emile."

SADIE HAWKIN'S DAY

All other days may go and come without any more than a nod of recognition, but Hilltoppers never fail to do their best for the lonely lady of Dogpatch. Saddle shoes and sweaters are swapped for the latest in Dogpatch styles, (note pictures, right). professorial admonishments are generally ignored for those twenty-four hours, and Munger Bowl and the gym become overnight as wild and woolly as the best of Dogpatch hills.

The afternoon features football for the gals, sock races, tug-o-war, potato races, and the climax—the Chase. Pursuer and pursued, (the one she caught), have "dinner on the ground" by the big bonfire, and all proceed to the square dances, hog-calling contests, and the naming of the Sadie of the year.

Pictures around the page show the round of merriment from "Comin' Round the Mountain" to the final capitulation of one male, snagged and caught.

The following day is usually spent in combing hay out of the hair and stowing away derby and jug until the next year.

ELECTION DAY

Suffrage—every American's right, every citizen's duty. Here we learned about politics, mob psychology, machines, how to influence people and win votes, and how, when the shouting was over, to run efficiently, collectively, and dutifully, the wheels of student government.

The campus became a patchwork quilt of colors, streamers, placards, and posters. Weeks before the great day campaign headquarters sprang up and the machines were greased for action. It was a time of campus spirit, of reckoning with jobs to be done and students to do it. It was a time of clashing opinions and, opposing views. It was a time when "honor" meant a lot.

When the ballots were counted and the oaths taken, the furor died and the "elect" took over.

MR. HILLTOPPER

This is the time for the men to shine, as candidates for the title of Mr. Hilltopper and as performers extraordinary.

In 1947-48 it was Joe Cunniff who took the crown as Mr. Hilltopper, IV., the most typical, all-round, talented, and popular man on the Hill.

Sponsored annually by the AOPi's the contest brings together candidates for the honor from every fraternity and sorority. They plug their choice, publicize his deeds, and gather votes for him from every corner of the campus.

When the curtain goes up on the big night the candidates are presented to the audience and while votes are counted a male cast presents skits and a fashion parade, wherein the women get a chance to see just how beautiful a man can be.

A philanthropic project of the AOPi's, all proceeds from the show go to their Frontier Nursing Service in Kentucky.

The Men on Parade

CAT'S PAW

Leprechauns, the Veterans Administration, Alabama politics, and the "New Look," all came in for a crack in one of the most unusual Cat's Paw demonstrations of that event's long history.

It is traditionally an all-school show. Everyone participates in the evening's clowning, and generally everyone is clowned upon, for Cat's Paw has become a medium of subtle, healthy satire on any and every aspect of student life. Even the faculty joins in the fun, and for one evening the barriers are completely broken.

Divided arbitrarily into four groups, the students plan their skit, write the script, make costumes, learn to sing and dance, and laughingly trample on everyone's toes.

If laughter is the best medicine known, Southern's students are safe as long as they are doctored yearly by Cat's Paw.

Around the page: Leprechauns dance, make wierd noises and tell tales on the world; Bob Mitchum made the evening completely fantastic; the College Theater make-up crew did their part; We know—B.O.; Faculty fantasy; Cigareets and Whisky, and Wild, Wild Wimmin!

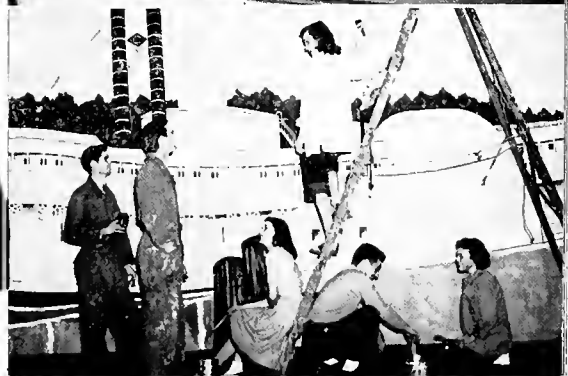

BEAUTY ON PARADE

Satin, ruffles, crinoline skirts, orchids and gardenias . . . and Southern's loveliest girls.

Against a spectacular old Southern background, complete with bales of cotton, campus beauties paraded for a jam-packed house in Munger Auditorium.

Beauty has definitely become a tradition at Southern, expressed this year by Queen Joy Barnhart and her ladies-in-waiting, Anne Lewis, Margaret Enslin, Phyllis Anderson, and Ann Coats.

It was a dark and stormy night but bright was the merriment within. For close-ups turn to the Beauty Section.

BOYS' INTRAMURAL COUNCIL

Standing—Dunn, Jackson, Hamilton.*

The Intramural Council consists of fraternity and independent representatives who abet Coach Baker in planning the year's athletic program.

These representatives discuss, then vote on feasible measures involving rules, equipment, officials—and all the necessities involved in making an athletic program click. It is their decisions that make the Intramural program a decisive success.

Besides experience gained in the verbal tactics required of meeting the very prerequisites of a successful program, the young gentlemen, honored by their group as selectees, represent the athletic epitome of their organization.

The purpose of Intramural is to acquaint as many persons as possible with the requirements and vigor involved in athletics. Through Intramurals each individual may be reached. Thus more bodies are toughened more muscles are hardened and minds are sharpened. Intramurals are the peak of competitive student participation.

GIRLS' INTRAMURAL COUNCIL

Standing—Harris, Martin, Barnes, Jones, Holley, Doerr, Kirby, Rountree.*

These are the big wheels who keep things rolling smoothly on the girls' side of the gym.

Senior Manager, Bib Hughes, guided these weekly meetings of sorority sports representatives with Misses Lewis and Davis in neutral corners.

Plenty of brains as well as brawn were in evidence when the girls went through the mathematical intricacies of drawing up tournaments.

They worked that others might play.

VARSITY

COACH AND CAPTAINS

Coach Bill Burch and Captains Oxford and Gilmore are pictured on a stratagem to sultice their courtly ambitions. Coach Burch replaced Coach Bill Battle at the mid-point of the Cat season and turned in a creditable job of prepping his boys. It was Coach Burch's initial job as skipper of the varsity squad. Forecast for next season: The Panthers will be tough to beat.

Letter winners were Oxford, Avirett, Gilmore, Hopping, Ware, Callahan, Pike, Chambers, Nicholson, Williams, Manager Blinn. The coaches, Bill Battle, Bill Burch "B" team members are Green, Tutwiler, Lonergan, Vest, Davis, Legg, May, and Norton.

BASKETBALL

Bob Callahan

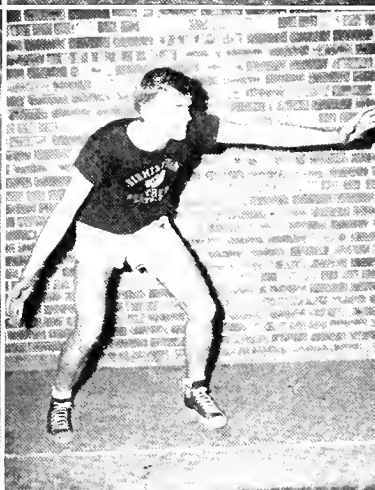

Jerome Chambers

Bill Ware

Tom Avirett

Jack Gilmore

Oxford fires away for a basket as the cord of Howard players closes in. No. 33 Maddox, 66 Lowery, and Wadsworth watch futilely as ball and net contact—two points Panthers.

Alabama downs the Panthers—City Auditorium—A scrappy Southern five battled a heavily-favored Alabama team right down to the finish tonight, but superior Tide reserve drowned Hilltop hopes 38-27 in a nicely-played ball game. Callahan, of the Panthers, fires away, with Captain Jerry Oxford following, during action of the contest, Sharp (22) and Riley (55) are the Tuscaloosans. The official, Ben Chapman.

INTRAMURAL

CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM

With an 8-1 record of wins against losses, the Kappa Alpha Knights captured the I.M. football trophy for '48.

(Standing), McCoy, Kiker, Garmon, Elliott, Sherman, Keathley, Moore, Stallings, Coates, Coach Hamilton, Walker, Grimes, Avirett.

Comeon, boys! Miss Lewis' dancing class is at 12 o'clock. It's a bird, it's a man—it's Parker Hopping really hopping.

KA 6—SAE 0: Jack Inglis, SAE's flashy back, moves into KA's Hal Stallings in the rugged fray between the teams. Tutwiler and Mashburn close the pincers on the ball carrier.

FOOTBALL

(Left), Percy Sullivan and Booty Jennings, guards on the Rams and ATO's respectively, show their "pull-out" ability as they get ready to go into their downfield blocks. The Rams triple-threat, Billy Douglas, is treading the golden carpet of the up-front boys.

Kappa Alpha came off the ground from a 10-0 Ensley shellacking to spank the Independent Rams 6-0 and garner the I.M. football honors. It was sweet revenge for the Red and Whites who lost a 13-12 thriller to the same Rams a year ago, and with it the school championship.

The KA's waltzed through most of their opposition prior to the Ensley game; only ATO and SAE forced them to show their fancy steps as the ATO's were defeated 7-2 and the boys of SAE 6-0. The Southern Champs then plastered Sewanee 19-6 in the two schools' yearly meeting.

Coached by Price Hamilton, the KA's were good when that was required and better when the chips were down. That KA-Ram windup in the rain and mud was a honey!

(Right) — Tom Avirett, end, and Malcom Coates, halfback, are two big reasons why Kappa Alpha won the I.M. football crown. Better known as the Brahmins of Lee's brigade.

(Center)—Parker hopping, kicking, Bill Logan holding, and three points for Ensley. The "toe" was terrific!

(Far right)—Hubert Snow, Theta Chi, and Phil Bouffard, SAE, unanimous all-star selections, juggle the pigskin in a scramble for possession.

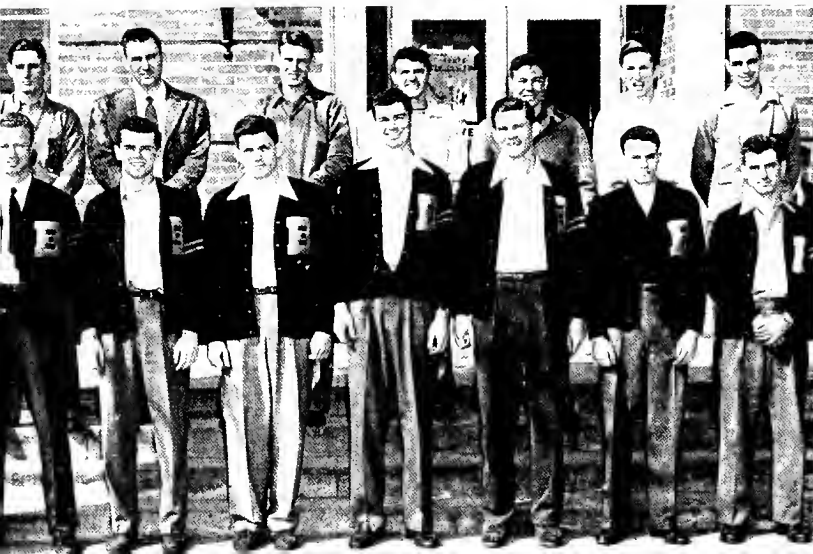

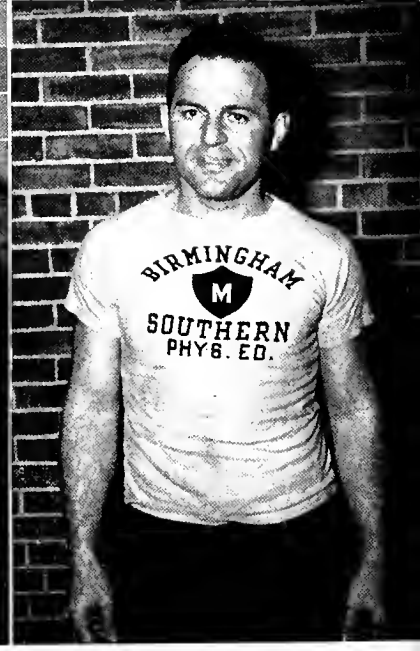

MEN'S

Morris Dillard replaces Johnny Bowen as Badminton Champion of the Hill.

Beautiful form young man! The Southern pool features year round delight.

Weldon Sapp. From a field of 160 entries, this new comer emerged to beat Phillip Feltham 21-18, 21-13 and capture the table tennis title. Nice going, champ.

Likeable Danny Kallman, the handball King, eased through eight opponents to capture the crown. Danny's two straight game win in the finals was a fine triumph for a great competitor.

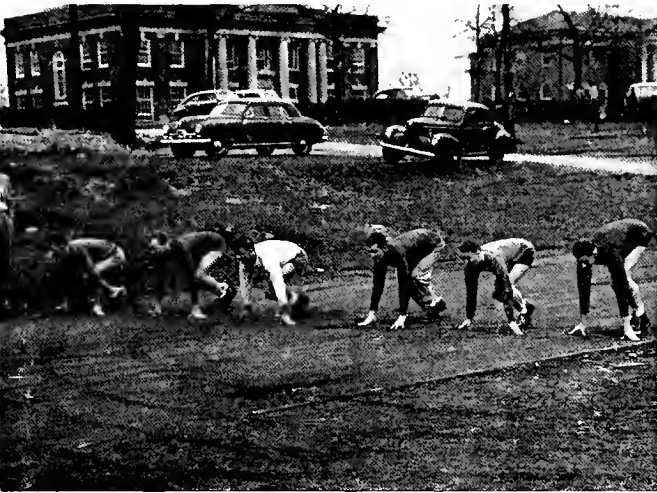

"B" CLUB

Southern's revived varsity program features this excellent group of letter winners. Our hats are dolled to: Jerry Chambers, Bob Callahan, Parker Hopping, Jerry Oxford, Tom Avirett, Stu Nicholson, Jack Gilmore,

The Champs: The KA's netted the volleyball crown as the result of these seven young giants. Peaches Taylor, Hal Stallings, Malcolm Coates, Tom Avirett, Bunny Moore, Elbert Walker, and Bob Callahan were in there and up there when it counted.

Varsity Tennis—(left to right) Brown, Waggoner, Dillard, Causey, Coates, Sapp, Coach Gaines. It was a "raquet" the way these boys swept to the Alabama Championship.

WOMEN'S

VOLLEYBALL OFFICIALS

Peggy McDonald, (left), and Dot West, (right), kept tab on points during the volleyball tournament. Experts themselves, they kept the ball off the hardwood for Pi Phi and KD respectively.

Women's intramural sports hit a new high in enthusiasm and participation, and the complicated procedure of managing tournaments kept Senior Manager, Bib Hughes, and Junior Manager, Raymona Brown, busy during the year.

Assisting them were Patsy Collins, who handled volleyball, Peggy McDonald, tennis, Irene Gulledge, basketball, Ruth Harris, swimming, and Peggy Rountree, softball.

The victory cup was relinquished this year by the Independents to Pi Beta Phis who drew championships in tennis singles, softball, badminton, and free throw.

Independents copped the volleyball crown for the second consecutive year, edging out the Pi Phis and placing their two stars on the all-star list. The volleyball talent was widespread, however, as this all-star team shows: Bib Hughes, Anne Lewis, Henrietta Martin, Dottie Doerr, Nelle Whetstone, Mary Leta English, Martelia Bell, and Irene Gulledge.

INTRAMURALS

BASKETBALL OFFICIALS

Bib Hughes and Irene Gulledge, (right). Independent stalwarts, kept their whistles ready at basketball games. Irene was chosen outstanding woman athlete with 1050 points to her credit. Bib was a close second with 1047.

AOPi's tenaciously held on to their championship in basketball with Pi Phi's and Independents giving them terrific competition. A championship playoff among the top three was necessary to settle the winner, and Patsy Collins' six managed to make it by squeezing past the Pi Phi's in a 6-5 thriller. Even the all-stars were elected only from the top three teams—Elsa Allgood, Irene Gulledge, Bib Hughes, Peggy McDonald, Sara Killingsworth, and Pat Bowers.

TENNIS

The tennis doubles crown went to the Zeta's whose fast-stepping, hard-hitting duo, Fran Jones and Mary Leta English, (above), kept opponents panting for breath and wanting for game points.

TABLE TENNIS

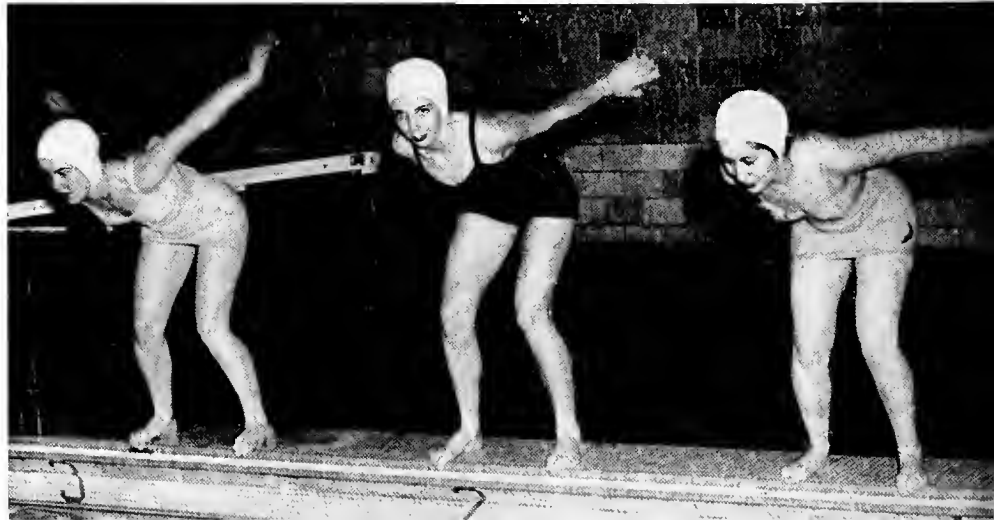

There was more than a flick of the wrist in the secret of Betty Underwood, Zeta, who took the ping pong championship for the second straight year.

SWIMMING

On your mark, get set, Go!

Left to right, Margaret Cooper, Daphna Barnes, and Josephine Sansone take a plunge. High pointers in the annual meet, they were topped by Raymona Brown who led the KD's to victory.

Under the direction of Miss Davis swimming became a fine art when a water ballet group was formed by May Day festivities.

Action and teamwork were the keywords for women's sports tournaments in 1948. Volleyball, basketball, and softball continued to lead the list of major team sports with tennis gaining in popularity and skilled players. Badminton and table tennis drew the not-so-active into the intramural program.

Left, Patsy Collins rings two points for the AOPi's while Pi Phi guards the goal.

Center and below, a crowd gathered for the Independent-AOPi match, one of the hardest fought games of the season.

For WHOM the BELL TOLLS

The clapper fell heavily on the hour and every day for four years. Sometimes it hit like the axe of an executioner; other times its tones were as sweet as the Liberty Bell's.

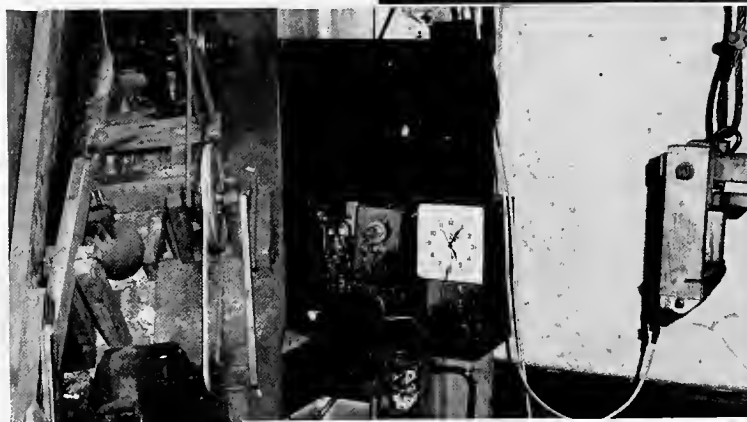

Now it tolls a mournful tune. It means that college is over and that this record of our last year on the Hill must close. We feel at last akin to professors who never heard the bell ring and always held us overtime. And now that we must leave, we want to linger on to finish all we left undone, to explore all the paths our courses opened up to us.

But the marshalling clang of the bell orders us on to the next class, to the next lesson.

We hope we've caught the spirit of Southern in these pages. We hope the "things you'll never forget" are pictured in this book. To the undergraduates we offer this work as our humble legacy. To the profs who led us up and over the Hill we utter a mute but deep-felt thanks.

The hands of the clock jump to the hour, wheels spin and the bell rings. It is tolling its parting knell—for us.
